

HVAC Controls

How do you make your investment pay for itself besides the obvious benefits and comfort Home Automation systems' provide? Some real savings occur in your reduced hydro consumption in regards to heating and air conditioning units. By having your Home Management system monitor temperatures inside and out throughout your property, you can funnel excess energy back into your HVAC system and redistribute it without any worry other than figuring out how to spend all that savings.

Own a pool or a spa? You can integrate these control systems into your Home Management system to control on-off features, allow sensors to display temperature settings or schedule an automatic cleaning, all from the comfort of your Home Management console.

Want to know the relative humidity outside? How can my home adjust to the outside temperature? Multi zone controls allow you to decide on which room should be set at what temperature and which temperature setting can control the whole house. These options are all possible with a Home Management system.

Have a cottage or second home? HVAC controls allow you to adjust temperature settings long before you arrive, to an environment that is suitable for all seasons.

So when deciding upon HVAC controls, ask about how you can save money by integrating it with a Home Management System.

Richard Railey
Interactive Interiors Inc.
<mailto:info@interinter.com>

